Call for Special Sessions

TENCON 2019 organizers cordially invite internationally recognized experts to propose Special Sessions within a general scope of the conference. Special Sessions are expected to push the frontiers in both classic, contemporary, and emerging topics of interest to the regular sessions and the theme of the conference. We also encourage more applied impact-type Special Sessions with a focus on fields of critical importance to the technology, knowledge, and society aiming to establish connections with other research communities.

Special Sessions Proposal Submission

Proposal should be submitted as a single PDF file via email to proposals@tencon2019.org. Each special session proposal must include the following:

- Title of Special Session
- Name of proposer(s)
- Email of the main contact person
- Short one-paragraph biographies of the proposers
- Brief description of the topic and motivation, highlighting the novelty/impact and timeliness of the topic
- Relevance to the scope of TENCON and related topics

Proposals will be evaluated based on the quality of the proposal, timeliness and potential impact of the topic, as well as on the track record of the proposers. Papers submitted for special sessions will be peer reviewed in the same way as submissions to the regular sessions.

Special Sessions Timeline

Proposal Submission Deadline: March 31, 2019
